Building a federal public service where minds of all kinds can thrive

Infinity is the Government of Canada's interdepartmental network for neurodivergent employees, which includes those with cognitive conditions and differences such as autism, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), Tourette's syndrome, dyslexia, and dysgraphia. We aim to connect, empower and, advance neurodivergent employees across their careers in the federal public service.

While Infinity serves all federal public servants, it is supported by a Secretariat currently based out of Canadian Heritage.

Infinity accomplishes this through events, activities, and initiatives such as:

- Dedicated online spaces (GCxchange and GCcollab)
- Social events and networking mixers
- Information resources on neurodiversity
- Learning workshops on neurodiversity
- Kiosks at in-person Government of Canada events

Infinity also organizes the annual Public Service Neurodiversity Week (PSNW). Taking place every third week of October, PSNW seeks to celebrate the talents and contributions of neurodivergent employees to Canada's federal public sector, and raise awareness about the workplace needs and experiences of neurodivergent colleagues.

Our mission

To connect, empower, and advance neurodivergent public servants to build meaningful careers in the federal public sector.
