AboutServicesContact UsFR

Our mission is to lead the development of a knowledgeable, resilient and integrated security community across the Government of Canada.

Welcome

Formerly known as the Departmental Security Officer (DSO) Centre for Development (CfD), the Security Centre of Excellence (SCoE) has been in operation since 2012. Its mandate is to foster security community development and capacity building in order to achieve our goals across government.

Guided by a Board of Management and a new Strategic Plan, the SCoE serves the security community as a whole and integrates government security and emergency management priorities.

The SCoE acts as a force multiplier that facilitates cohesion throughout the security community. Building on expertise across the community, the SCoE aims to enhance readiness, preparedness and resilience.

Our mission is to lead the development of a knowledgeable, resilient and integrated security community across the Government.

The SCoE achieves excellence in security by promoting consistent, predictable, and standardized approaches to most security challenges. The SCoE is a catalyst for change and its activities will support the adoption of a robust security posture and culture across government.

Services Offered

Capacity Building

In addition to providing specific tools and services, the SCoE supports the security community by ongoing efforts to strengthen overall. This includes working to have the security function recognized as a profession within government, developing hiring creating opportunities for continuous learning and development.

Advice and Guidance

As the focal point for the ongoing development of the government's security community, the SCoE takes great pride in support expertise and knowledge, as requested, obtained from various informed sources, with security functional specialists in individual security community as a whole.
